

ANENT CARMEL'S STREET DECORATIONS

Decoration of streets and business houses in Carmel with gay bunting for the pageant has been the cause of no little comment the past few days since so many feel that the decorations smack entirely too strongly of the Salinas rodeo. Neon lights, flamboyant signs and whoope-la attractions have always been banned in Carmel. Merchants have gone to no little expense in paying for the decorations, many doing so against their real sentiment for fear of being accused of lack of co-operation in making Serra Pageant a success. And that is a fine spirit of cooperation that WILL make the event a real lasting success.

The decorations are, however, quite a glaring change in the traditional Carmel and a real source of embarrassment to those who want Carmel individualistic. It is not likely that any of those bitter controversies common to Carmel will arise over the departure from the Carmel spirit but since the Pageant is to be an annual affair, let's profit by the experience and next year have something that is DIFFERENT, BETTER and MORE ARTISTIC than miles and miles of faded and bedraggled, gaudy bunting. One suggestion is a flower show wherein each merchant does his own decorating with prizes for the most unique, artistic and charming effects. That would be much better and the hundreds of dollars spent in renting bunting would be kept in Carmel.

THE SERRA PAGEANT IS NOT A CARNIVAL

Now that the time is drawing near for Carmel's Serra Pageant it should not be lost sight of that the Pageant is a religious festival and NOT a carnival. The real fundamental purpose of the Pageant is to pay a tribute to Father Junipero Serra, one of the greatest if not the greatest founders of civilization in California. And since this great and holy man's remains are buried at the altar of Carmel Mission it is fitting that Carmel's pageant should be an example in simple dignity to all the other towns in California having missions founded by Serra. All of the old records available tell us that Father Serra was a man of great piety who abhorred the cheap, tawdry and showy things of life. The play written by George Marion is a beautiful thing, produced with all the skill of an artist entirely in keeping with the sentiment and traditions established by Father Serra. We as Carmelites should therefore guard very jealously this priceless heritage and see to it that the cheap, carnival spirit does not enter into the event. It is only in this manner that the Pageant can be made a permanent, yearly event of real interest.

ALLSMAN PROMISES CARMEL A DEPUTY CONSTABLE

H. W. Allsman, candidate for constable, has made a very explicit promise to the voters of Carmel that is worthy of the attention of every voter in this part of the district. Carmel has never had anything to boast about in the way of a constable since that official has lived in Monterey, much too far away to be reached when there is trouble and need for an officer of the law. Mr. Allsman promises that Carmel will have a deputy constable as soon as the city council or the board of supervisors can agree to it. And that is something. People outside the city limits of Carmel have only the protection of a constable or deputy sheriff and to state the situation exactly in the words of people who have wanted an officer very badly in the past the existing service is "rotten."

Mr. Allsman is a man of integrity, courageous in the line of duty and with some years of experience as deputy sheriff, U. S. Marshal and in other official capacities. He has made a record in Lakeside where he lives and acted for some years as a deputy sheriff, as an officer who is not to be trifled with and is a man the tough muggs shun.

EARL BREAUX MAY BE NOMINATED

Earl Breaux of Monterey is a man that will make a good constable if elected since he is a man of ability and fine character. While there are seven or eight candidates running for the office it now looks very much like H. W. Allsman and Mr. Breaux will head the ticket and be in on the finals next November. Mr. Breaux has many friends in Carmel who will vote for him but his real strength is in other parts of the district where he is better known. So far as is known he has made no promises to any faction and if elected will enter the office "free, wide and handsome."

POLITICAL CHISELERS RAMPANT

Perhaps it's the depression; the N.E.A. or what have you, but the fact grows that political candidates for state and national offices this year are the biggest lot of chiseling tightwads the editor has known in about twenty-five years. Never before have there been so many candidates whose evident idea is that all it takes to run for office is a mimeograph machine and a lively imagination.

And the copy this election, which candidates supply so generously

CARMEL ENTHUSIASTIC
OVER COMING PAGEANT

Carmel is beginning to wake up to the fact that the Serra Pageant and Fiesta is out of the ordinary for this or any other town.

With the Committee scurrying to and fro, dashing up to San Francisco, breaking speed limits to the Bay district cities—with the decorations climbing all over buildings draping them with Spanish colors—malls citizens commencing to grow Spanish side whiskers—the real estate offices over-swamped, not only in Carmel but all over the Peninsula with applications week—hundreds of requests for reserved seats days before they were to be put on sale—it strikes the average Carmelite that his town is due for a crowd of dimensions unknown to this Peninsula.

There was never any time since George Marion sent out the first call for dancers and actors that showed a scarcity of ambitious ones, but during the last week it seems that everybody in town wants to help or to be in the cast of the Pageant, "The Apostle of California."

Zara Koepf and June Delight, who are teaching the dances, mapped out by Mr. Marion, say they never had a more willing and intelligent group of boys and girls than these of the Peninsula that are rehearsing nightly at the Sunset School.

Floyd Mangrum, Chairman of the Committee, while always optimistic in regard to attendance, said the demand has astounded him, and strange to say, that the sale of the two dollar seats is such that he feels quite assured that section will be completely sold out for every performance some days before the opening, April 24th.

Mrs. Cedric Rowntree who is with her husband at Gasquet ranger station, in an interesting letter to her mother, Mrs. Louise Hasty, writes that she held down her husband's position all alone for five days while he took the place of another lookout who was ill. Mrs. Rowntree discovered seven fires in the five days. The only company she had during the time was her dog and gun, and of course her telephone.

Mrs. George Young enjoyed a visit from Miss Miriam Rasmussen of San Jose, Mrs. Emil Liddicott of Auburn and Miss Miriam Grifity of Sacramento.

is particularly worthless to the average editor. The one thing an editor wants to see and must have, if he is to stay in business is money. A check of any size, however small commands attention and would at least induce us to read the first paragraph of the roams of publicity coming in from some.

It is unfortunate in Carmel that we do not have colder weather for if we had any need for fire, we would have had ample fuel the past few weeks. As it is we have to take real time to burn the stuff.

JOE'S TAXI STAND
AT NEW LOCATION

"Joe's Taxi" stand is now in the Dixon Realty office and Joe announces that he has a new Pontiac coupe for service with which the big Packard sedan he has had for some time gives him exceptionally fast and luxurious equipment. He is ready for service, long or short trips any time of the day or night. Give him a ring at 202-w when you want prompt and reasonable service.

THUMB BOX TEMPERAS

Forty small, brilliantly-colored paintings, which the artist humorously calls "Thumb-Box Temperas," the work of De Neale Morgan, will be exhibited in the Denny-Watrous Gallery beginning Monday, August 13. Miss Morgan herself will be present during the afternoon, from two to five.

Many Carmel people have called on Mrs. Jadovskoy at the Russian Tea Room in Monterey since she moved to the Lee building, and have been delighted with the new place, especially enjoying the little garden at the rear.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Tenny have returned to their home in Chicago after a month spent at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Tom Thienes. This was their second trip to Carmel and they are so much in love with the place they will return in the spring and build them a summer home. Mr. Tenny is an expert fisherman and has received many medals for the art.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Fenstermaker of San Francisco were week end guests of the Sun editors and enjoyed seeing the many lovely sights in Carmel. They attended mass at the Old Mission Sunday.

James Wilson and Tony Lipp of San Mateo are spending their vacation with the former's sister, Mrs. James H. Thoburn, and Mayor Thoburn at their home in Carmel Valley. The guests are enjoying golf a greater part of their time.

Miss Lauran Chinn has returned to San Francisco to continue her study of music and foreign languages after a month's vacation spent with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Austin B. Chinn.

GAY COMEDY OF MODERN
SPAIN AT THE PLAYHOUSE

When the curtain opens this Friday night on "The Women Have Their Way," the charming modern Spanish comedy at the Playhouse, the summer public will see the favorites of "Counsellor-at-Law" and "The Mother of Gregory" gathered together in one cast, with the addition of several new faces, notably that of the leading lady, Mary Lile, of neighboring Watsonville.

"The Women Have Their Way," one of the pet plays of Eva Le Gallienne, authentically shows us life as it is lived today in provincial Spain by the better class. Happy, carefree, gossipy, tuneful and laughing people come and go on the stage. The plot is amusing but hardly a strain on the mentality, concerning the affairs of a young Madrid lawyer who comes on business into a little "petticoat town" of Andalusia and is promptly seized upon by the ladies of the place and in spite of himself is maneuvered into a betrothal with the equally reluctant pearl of the village, the charming Juanita de la Rosa.

Many of the clever lines of the play are more than a little reminiscent of small town life in our own land. "How can the whole place be agog with it if there's nothing in it?" exclaims Concha Puerto, good-natured but persistent gossip. At any rate, all ends well and the mutual indifference of the two young people suddenly melts away in the sunshine and music with which the play ends.

Considered by critics a masterpiece of comedy written by the foremost of Spain's playwrights, the brothers Quintero, and done over into faultless English by the Granville-Barkers, the play in its local adaptation by Edward Kuster for production by the Golden of the most delightful entertainments of the coming season. With its pretty girls, colorful costumes and gay music it will be a fitting prelude to the Serra Festival two weeks hence.

Tickets are on sale daily in the Court of the Golden Bough, in front of the Carmel motion picture theatre. The play will be repeated Saturday and again next week end.

J. STITT WILSON

TO SPEAK SATURDAY

No stranger to the Monterey Peninsula, J. Stitt Wilson, former mayor of Berkeley, will speak Saturday evening, August 11 at Sunset School, Carmel.

Prominent lecturer and educator, J. Stitt Wilson has conducted classes in economics and social ethics in Pacific Grove, where he was well and favorably received.

Explaining the "End Poverty In California" campaign of Upton Sinclair, J. Stitt Wilson will bring his interpretation of the movement to the voters of this peninsula Saturday, August 11 at 8 p.m.

All are invited and admission is free.

Mrs. Stella Taylor of Pasadena is a guest of her daughter, Mrs. T. Grant Phillips on Santa Fe and Mountain View.

CAST FOR "DUMB WIFE" HAS BEEN CHOSEN

An all-Peninsula cast has been selected for "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife" which is to be produced at the Forest Theater Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, August 16, 17 and 18, in Carmel.

The parts in this delightful comedy by Anatole France are, The Judge.....Herbert Heron The Lawyer.....Eugene Watson The Doctor.....Austin Reynolds The Apothecary.....Clay Otto The Secretary.....Grosvenor Winston The Wife.....Ellen Uphaw The Maid.....Phoebe Anne Neubauer The Girl.....Opal Jefferson

And many incidental and singing roles that make beautiful medieval stage pictures or add delightful tonal effects.

"A swirling, riotous thing," said one of the critics. "I want to see it again."

This rapid comedy is worthy of Anatole France, the master craftsman. Although with a medieval setting that permits of artistic stage effects worthy of the traditions of Forest Theater, this comedy is thoroughly up-to-date in its social satire, for it is a satire of all times, of the high cost of being a husband, the servant problem, the fashions of yesterday and tomorrow and the loquacity of some of the ladies.

VILLAGE FAIR TO FEATURE

CARMEL VALLEY PRODUCTS

For the first time in the history of the village, farm exhibits from the Carmel Valley will be featured at the Carmel Fair at the Forest Theatre grounds August 31 and September 1. Henry F. Dickinson is arranging for the exhibits and a full representation of the Other attractions will include a Beauty Contest for girls in shorts, prizes to be awarded by a group of celebrated artists acting as judges. There will be a shooting gallery, a photograph gallery, a German Beer Garden, dancing, a concert by the popular Presidio band, cowboy riding, roping, and the popular Cowboy Chorus led by California Andrews. Dinner will be served on the grounds. Betty Green's riding ponies will be available. There will be cat and dog shows, dog races, a fish pond, a rare book booth, pop corn and candy stands, a flower show offering prizes, an auction of paintings and other works of art by resident artists. Vaudeville acts will include Billie McConnell and her troupe, Allen Knight and his company, and other local favorites, and some not so local.

On the Midway one may witness a Fan Dance reminiscent of Sally Read, a fat woman, a skeleton man, and no boy! an artists' Life Class with living models being sketched. The American Legion is expected to participate in the street parade. The proceeds from the fair will be used to pay off the Forest Theatre's indebtedness and to finance improvements to the grounds.

Mrs. Mary Wheldon has returned from a delightful trip to the Chicago fair.

NORMANDY INN IS OPENED TO PUBLIC

Mark up another score for Carmel! Another "est" has been added to the many already boasted of. The new "Normandy Inn" at the corner of Monte Verde and Ocean is the finest eating place on the peninsula!

Hardwood floors, beautiful autumn colorings of white, blue, gold and brown, three cozy fireplaces, window after window to let in the glorious sunlight—combine with many other things to make the new building stand out.

There is a private dining room and there is a terrace, not at all private, for the guests may look out over the passersby and the passersby may look at the guests.

The kitchen holds everything a cook could possibly desire. The latest word in a range, several feet long, steam table, refrigerators, and plenty of room so that the workers need not get in each other's way.

Mrs. Gussie Meyer, proprietor, was formerly located in the Old Cabin Inn where she made a name for herself with her wonderful cuisine. Having outgrown the room there, she was forced to move into larger quarters and will be prepared to handle the crowds who will be attracted by the new "Normandy Inn."

CALISTA ROGERS' LAST

PROGRAM FRIDAY EVENING

The final program of Calista Rogers' Song Series, which the Denny-Watrous Gallery has been presenting, is set for this Friday evening, at eight-thirty o'clock, in the Gallery. Ralph Linsley, as before, will be at the piano.

Of the three evenings of Song, all of which have been admirably arranged and presented, this last has the greatest variety and artistic interest. Miss Rogers in these modern songs has a chance to show the full range and power of her voice, which rings out triumphantly in the "Seguidilla" of De Falla, and narrows to a thin span hair of tone in some of the Debussy impressions.

The entire evening will be devoted to modern song, beginning with Debussy, giving examples from the Italian Pizzetti, the German Schonberg and Hindemith, and ending with the brilliant Spanish Granados and De Falla. The full program follows:

Chevaux de bois.....Debussy
Priere a Notre Dame.....Debussy

EXHIBITION AT FAIR

The Pacific Gas and Electric Company's Farm Electrification exhibit at the California State Fair next month will again be a modern science display feature of instructive quality.

The exhibit was established at the State Fair in 1931 as an aid to agricultural sales. It consists of a group of permanent buildings representing a modern farm, with home, barns and outbuildings, in which are displayed all modern devices applicable to the use of electricity in agricultural pursuits.

There is a poultry exhibit, where electric incubators and brooders are shown, also feed-grinders and violet ray lamps whose scientific value in building up baby chickens has been successfully demonstrated. There will be shown also apparatus for heating drinking water for chickens; it is found that this enables them to lay better in winter time.

The dairy exhibit will, as usual, include milking machines. Real cows are brought in to assist in demonstrating. Other features of the dairy equipment include feed-grinders and mixers, electric milk coolers, sterilizers, etc.

Another experimental feature that never fails to arouse interest is electric soil-heating. It is found that application of electric heat to soil while raising its temperature stimulates plant growth. For the purpose of demonstration a greenhouse has been specially constructed.

Additional equipment is constantly being gathered for various parts of the exhibit. Permanent improvements have been made in the way of lawns, trees and shrubs and every year the exhibit is reopened on a bigger and better scale than before.

HATFIELD TO TOUR

NORTHERN COUNTIES

Ending nearly two months of intensive campaigning in Southern California, George J. Hatfield, candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, will return to San Francisco next week, preparatory to a rapid swing through northern counties during the final weeks before the primary election.

Hatfield's candidacy has been accorded strong support in Southern California, according to his Los Angeles campaign manager, Russell N. Lockwood, who expressed confidence that Hatfield would carry a majority of the southern counties.

Clem Whitaker, manager of the State-wide campaign in behalf of Hatfield, also expressed satisfaction with the progress made in northern California, predicting that Hatfield will carry the great agricultural valleys of the north, together with the San Francisco-Oakland Bay region, by heavy majorities.

Hatfield, former United States Attorney for Northern California, will return to his home city—San Francisco—August 12th and after three days in the Bay region will invade the San Joaquin Valley. He is scheduled to visit Bakersfield and other Kern County communities August 15th, spending August 16th in Tulare and Kings Counties, the 17th in Fresno, and the 18th in Merced, Madera and Stanislaus Counties.

He will devote the final week before election to an intensive canvass of Alameda County, the Peninsula district and north coastal counties.

MATHIOTS LOSE FINE

HORSE ON DEER HUNT

A deer hunting trip taken by K. D. Mathiot and daughter Peggy, Jo Mora, Jr., Bob Leath and Wm. Riley ended disastrously last Tuesday when one of the pack horses belonging to Mr. Mathiot fell from a narrow trail down a steep cliff and broke the animal's neck. The accident happened only a short time after the party left the ranch and yet far enough away to take the party three days to get back. The grub for the party was on the unlucky horse and a part of it was ruined in the accident so that added to other troubles in getting back was a shortage of food.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Warner and George Schenler, of Montecito, Calif., formerly of the Warner Dude Wranglers of Hollywood, Santa Barbara and other radio stations, spent the week end with the former's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Warner. They are returning by way of Yosemite and Mono Lake, and plan on spending about two weeks on the trip.

A portion of the Josselyn land between Scenic and Del Mar avenues has been purchased by P. M. Bunn and Henry S. Tusler of the Salinas Valley Vegetable Exchange. The new owners will begin immediately the erection of homes.

STATEMENT OF DELINQUENT TAXES, JULY 31, 1934

Officials are very much pleased with the way tax money has come in recently, feeling that it is an indication of better times in this community.

Only $5,725.67 of the real estate taxes since 1921 remain unpaid at this time, out of a total of $38,000 due. The street assessments, however, of $5,388.41 bring the total amounts due to $11,114.08. The latter are provided for in bonds.

NEWLYWEDS SPEND THEIR HONEYMOON AT HIGHLANDS

Mrs. Millicent Sears enjoyed a visit last week from Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Rowe, newlyweds spending their honeymoon at Highlands studio. Mr. and Mrs. Rowe were married July 28 at Stanford Memorial Chapel. The bride was Miss Cherry Robinson before her marriage and was an employee of the Standard Oil Company of California in their home office, and Mr. Rowe is employed by the Standard Stations, Inc. They will make their home on Bay street in San Francisco. The romance began when the young people attended school in Oakland.

"MOTHER OF GREGORY" WAS WORK OF ART

"Mother of Gregory" was a triumph. Presented last Friday and Saturday evenings at the Playhouse, it held the audience spellbound for an hour, living with the actors the tragic moments in the lives of Annie of Lochroyan and Lord Gregory.

The lighting effects and the realistic sounds of the raging storm added their part to the convincing acting of Georgia Waple as Mother of Gregory. Although but 22 years of age, Miss Waple lost her personality in that of the character she portrayed. She transported her audience back to the days of the old Scotch ballad, her sense of rhythm and her perfect enunciation carrying the tragedy through to the climax.

Edward Kuster may have had a minor part, as advertised, but with his talent, a part he takes ceases to be minor and lives long in the memory of his hearers. As the mumbled ancient servant, loving the son, fearing the mother, he showed these two qualities in all his expressions and in every movement.

Betty Meyers as Annie was beautiful and charmingly fitted her role. With her long golden hair and silver gown, she seemed herself to step forth from the old ballad full of life and feeling. Even the "Mother of Gregory" seemed at times to be swayed by her loveliness.

Evert Sholund as Lord Gregory, completely under his mother's spell, won plaudits for his excellent portrayal, especially in that instance when he made the solemn oath that no one had called him. His implicit faith when his mother swore "by the holy rood" and "by the bleeding body of Christ" reached the innermost depths of the audience.

To William Gaskin of San Francisco is given the credit for scenery and sound effects, which were no little part of the success of the production.

Small wonder that "Mother of Gregory" won the first award in the recent competition in San Francisco.

FIVE BEAUTIFUL BACKS

WANTED FOR "DUMB WIFE"

The five most beautiful backs on the Peninsula are needed at once by the Forest Theater for "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife" which is now in rehearsal for August 16 to 18 production, in Carmel. No stage experience necessary. No rehearsals. Just beautiful backs and shoulders to match. Age limit, 22.

Apply to Herbert Heron, Seven Arts building, Ocean and Lincoln, Carmel, in the afternoons. And there's the rub! Who was to pick the five perfect backs? And, in fact, how could the august body of the Board of Governors of the Forest Theater ethically make it known that said five perfect backs were needed.

"This is a dangerous matter," warned Herbert Heron. "People will think 'The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife' is a sort of Ziegfeld Folly show. And that can not be. It is a beautifully artistic production, for of course the great master Anatole France could do nothing cheap or tawdry."

"And I, too, am quite against advertising for beautiful backs," warmly echoed the new president of the Board of Governors, Rachel Hiller. "Such publicity is so gauche, er—er a la Broadway, don't you know?"

"But we must have those beautiful backs," stubbornly asserted Eugene Watson, and you can't get them by whispering down a well. We simply must make a public appeal."

Decision. "The Dumb Wife" is to have the five most beautiful backs and shoulders on the peninsula, and Herbert Heron is to do the choosing. Officers Englund and Guth are to keep the candidates in line at the Seven Arts building and the inquisitive public at a proper distance. And oh yes, the public has a mistaken idea about this wife. She is by no means dumb in the sense she is a dumb-bell. She is dumb, speechless until a famous surgeon finds her tongue for her. And then she is spluttering, devastating fireworks to the man who married her. How he outwits his wife and the surgeon is the unique climax.

Many Carmel people have already purchased tickets to the Eagles' Barbecue to be held at the V. F. W. hut on the Salinas road, Sunday, August 19. The members of the lodge have been working faithfully for the past month to get everything shipshape for the enjoyment of their guests. W. H. LaVelle is the chairman of the committee on arrangements and J. V. Breaux is the assistant chairman.

P. C. O'Creary and wife are enjoying a visit from Mr. McCreary's brother, who arrived from Alabama Monday.

C. C. YOUNG for GOVERNOR

HIS RECORD IS HIS PLATFORM

HE LEFT AT THE END OF HIS TERM AS GOVERNOR THE GREATEST STATE TREASURY SURPLUS IN CALIFORNIA'S HISTORY, $31,000,000.00.

Many independent bureaus consolidated into 13 centralized departments.
2280 miles of highway building in less than 4 years.
All worthy veterans' legislation approved.
Initiated legislation making possible construction of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge.
Aid provided for the needy, aged and the blind; crippled children's program inaugurated.
Capable business men, rather than politicians, appointed to important state offices.
State Park System launched.
"Save the Beaches" Movement inaugurated.
Oil and Gas conservation effected.
Colorado River development forwarded.
Hundreds of farmers saved from bankruptcy by re-financing of reclamation projects.

California at this critical period vitally needs a steady hand at the helm. The governorship is the cornerstone of the whole structure of California business, the State's highest office of public trust. It requires a tried and trusted business administrator, whose training in the State's business is the State's best asset. Sound judgment demands that C. C. YOUNG be elected Governor.

Not many people are so fortunate as to be able to go out their back door and shoot a deer, but this is what happened to F. B. Porter of Robles del Rio — almost. Mr. Porter brought down his deer within three miles of his home and spent two busy days thereafter dividing venison among his friends and preparing jerky for future use.

Soon Carmel streets will be gay with the vari-colored dresses worn by the ladies in order to get into the festival spirit for the coming pageant. The lovely Misses Ace Sykes, Hope Sykes and Norris Thompson leading the way by being the first to appear on the streets Wednesday as Indian maids.

YOUNG WILL SPEAK HERE NEXT MONDAY

Former Governor G. C. Young will visit Carmel at 4:55 p.m. next Monday, August 13, on an informal tour in behalf of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Governor at the August primary. The former Governor has visited 48 counties in the state thus far in the campaign; and his headquarters in all sections report enthusiastic and cordial receptions in his honor everywhere.

Particularly impressive have been his discussions of the state's existing chaotic financial condition, in contrast with the $31,000,000 cash surplus he left in the state treasury at the conclusion of his term as Governor, in January, 1931. It is expected that he will tell in numerous speeches on his coming tour, of ways and means of restoring order out of the present bankrupt financial and administrative affairs of the state.

The John Cravens family of Pasadena are spending a month in their summer home on the Seventeen-Mile Drive.

Dr. J. Stitt Wilson will speak in Carmel next Saturday evening at 8 at Sunset school building and discussing Upton Sinclair's platform.

CHEW PLEASURES PEOPLE AT PLAYHOUSE SUNDAY

"It amuses me to hear anyone try to define art," said a recent visitor to Carmel, "art being a feeling that can not be described."

It would be useless to try to define the art of King Lan Chew, the beautiful Chinese dancer who entertained with an interesting program at the Playhouse last Sunday evening, yet that Miss Chew pleased her audience was shown by her numerous encores she received. A quality, lacking in some dancers, was the expression of her face which was in accord with the interpretations of her dancing.

Miss Chew could hardly be compared to an American artist since the ideas of her face and ours are different and where she expressed herself with graceful movements of feet and hands her body seemed unyielding. Her costumes were gorgeous and so fittingly designed they seemed to be a part of her personality.

FLORENCE LOCKE NEXT WEEK'S ATTRACTION AT DENNY-WATROUS GALLERY

From Stratford-on-Avon to Carmel — that is what one would expect who is learning that all the interesting people and interesting "shows" stop off at Carmel. So the Carmel enthusiast will not be surprised to hear that he is going to have a chance to hear Florence Locke, the great Shakespearian interpreter, on Saturday evening of next week, in the Denny-Watrous Gallery.

Florence Locke is recognized as the lineal descendant of Ellen Terry, in that she is handing down the Ellen Terry tradition. In costume of Rosalind, Beatrice, Ophelia, Volant, or Portia, she speaks the famous lines as only the great actresses of Shakespeare have spoken them. "For a full hour without pause or break she gripped her audience," as the Norfolk Evening Times said.

Tickets for this unique evening are on sale at the Gallery.

LAND OWNERS ASKED TO GIVE OPTIONS FOR CITY HALL SITE

To secure the PWA grant and loan from the government, Carmel must make definite plans for a new city hall.

It was thought that plans for a building could be submitted for a certain site and that after the loan was made the site could be changed if the people so desired. It now appears that the building must be located upon the grounds as described in the application. Therefore, anyone in Carmel who has land available for the site will please submit an offer to the city council and an election will be held in which all voters will have an opportunity to say where they want their new building located. If they wish to purchase land, they may do so, or if they wish to use land already owned by the city, they will have the opportunity to do so.

The need for haste is apparent. These PWA grants are being made all about Carmel, which has had not one cent of the monies. A new city hall will bring no extra cost to the taxpayers. The project was defeated at the last election simply because no definite site had been chosen. This time the bond will carry since the taxpayers themselves may choose the location.

The government will donate 30 per cent of the actual costs of labor and construction. The public will be fully informed as to how the costs of the bonds may be met so that no increase in taxes will be levied before the time for voting arrives.

Judge Wood and City Attorney Campbell have just returned from San Francisco where they went over the proposition with the assistant engineer.

MANY TRAFFIC CASES CITED FOR COURT

With Judge Wood away on business connected with the proposed PWA gift for the new city hall, traffic cases piled up and the majority of the following are still to be heard.

Iva L. Dymott of Santa Cruz, cited August 3 for ignoring stop sign and driving with expired license.

Henry H. Hasty, cited August 3 for driving with muffler open. Case dismissed with warning.

G. W. McFarland, cited August 4 for parking too close to intersection.

S. A. Reynolds, charged by Molly Gibbons with reckless driving, to appear Saturday.

R. Hale of Los Angeles, cited the 5th for ignoring stop sign and having no driver's license.

E. J. Tobin of San Mateo, cited Aug. 6 for ignoring stop sign.

Dewey Clough, cited August 4 for reckless driving.

Anna Leone Gould of Modesto cited August 8 for speeding 38 miles an hour in 25 mile zone, fined $10.

Mrs. Edward Trout of Los Angeles, cited the 4th for ignoring stop sign and having no driver's license. Appeared through automobile club and fined $5.

Fred Elkus, Jr., of Sacramento, cited August 8, for speeding 35 miles in 25 mile zone.

Gerald L. Stout, cited August 8 for speeding 25 miles in 15 mile zone.

James A. Horseburgh, cited August 7 for speeding 37 miles in 25 mile zone. Appeared Thursday and given $10 fine.

Adolph Bohn of San Francisco, cited August 8 for driving and parking on wrong side of street. Appeared through automobile club and was given a warning.

Roy Burns was fined $10 for driving upon the sidewalk in front of Curtis.

PENINSULA ORCHESTRA GAVE FINE PROGRAM

Again the Monterey Orchestra has scored, and Carmel's pride in her "own" musicians is justified. Tuesday night saw the fourth of the series of the Carmel Music Society's summer program when Michel Penha and his orchestra for the first time gave a full symphony — the Italian Symphony of Mendelssohn. And of course it was well done. It had to be or Penha would never have consented to its being presented.

And how the large audience did enjoy the solo work of Norman and Weiss, who played Mozart's double concerto for violin and viola.

The first public appearance of the capella chorus was a surprise and a delight. One could hardly believe that so much could have been accomplished in such a short time. This chorus will no doubt continue as the orchestra has done and will grow and prosper and be known as another of Carmel's distinctive assets.

The ability of the orchestra to handle music such as they give to the public strikes one with amazement upon each presentation, especially one who has watched their progress throughout the past three years. Their technique at this time is of such excellence that one can hardly believe the organization is only three years old.

We are going to have the opportunity of hearing another of these programs Tuesday evening, August 21, and it is my guess that there will be an even larger attendance than at the fourth of the series. — W. L.

HIGHLIGHTS OF PAGEANT

The Southern Pacific has announced special rates of $2.50 for the round trip from San Francisco during the five days of the festival.

Governor Frank Merriam will be present Sunday and Sunday night, August 20.

Archbishop Edw. J. Hanna will celebrate Pontifical High Mass Sunday, August 20.

Jack Hunt, a resident of Carmel about seven years ago, decided to return for a visit. Dropping in informally on a number of residents on San Antonio, he offered them a drink and immediately followed his offer with a request for funds. Some gave him money, but he finally ran across a host who was not so generous and who called Chief of Police Eunglund to the rescue. Mr. Eunglund took the offender to Monterey and delivered him with instructions that he was to stay away from Carmel.
